Thanks for sending this newer draft.

While I understand the key points the report is working to make, I think it will require some editing to make it more accessible to most readers:

If you were to engage us, the soonest we could be in a position to publicize the interim report would be the middle of next week (November 17). And in order for us to start the prep work this week, we would need a prepayment.

Please let me know what you think.

Tom C.

Attached is version 2.3. This is the one that Mike wants you to go over. He texted you a photo that has a paragraph with a star. We are not quite clear on what message you are wanting to convey. Can you please clarify that in your next draft.

Thanks,
